HURRICANE VICTIMS NUMBER 350

Mass Funeral Planned For Many Unknown

By ARTHUR EVERETT
Lake Charles, La. (AP)—Louisiana today prepared mass burials for the nameless among its estimated 350 hurricane victims.

Thousands of survivors of Thursday's great storm still clogged makeshift refugee centers here and in nearby towns. From Washington came a Red Cross estimate of 47,000 still homeless in southwestern Louisiana and southeastern Texas.

The latest estimate of the death toll came yesterday from Larry Stephenson, local director of civil defense. He based it on a widely accepted premise that uncounted dead still were screened from searchers by storm debris and the slowly receding tidal waters of the now serene Gulf of Mexico.

Gov. Earl Long inspected the disaster area yesterday and predicted: "The actual count of dead and missing will go way over 400."

He wouldn't guess how long it would take to rebuild an area that suffered a loss running into uncalculated millions of dollars.

"Nobody knows but the Lord," he said.

A growing threat of pestilence spurred the mass burial of unidentified bodies. Last night's midnight air in temporary morgues here echoed the soft chant of spirituals as many Negroes besought a final moment with their dead.

Poisonous snakes and emboldened rats held sway over the bare foundations of homes that once echoed to the laughter and day-to-day bustle of rural Louisianians.

Cameron, a little fishing village that was the focal point of the storm damage, was the target of the initial cleanup. Once its main street was bulldozed clear for traffic, mop-up squads turned to the rubble of its modest property. Only its courthouse was left intact by the storm.

Sun Storm Causing Radio-TV Blackouts Scientists Report

By FRANK CAREY
Science Reporter
Washington (AP)—Scientists of many countries concentrated today on studying the effects of a major explosion on the sun which coincided nicely with the opening of the International Geophysical Year.

IGY is a cooperative scientific effort by 62 nations—including Russia and most of her satellites—to glean new information about the earth, its oceans, its atmosphere and the sun which strongly affects life on the planet. About 10,000 scientists are participating in the 18-month studies, opening officially today.

The solar flare—a giant geyser of solar particles and radiation streaming out probably hundreds of thousands of miles from the sun's surface—reached the earth yesterday in the form of magnetic storms in the high atmosphere.

Radio blackouts were expected to occur in many places through out the world before nightfall today.

Already, the phenomenon has caused brilliant displays of the aurora—Northern and Southern lights—at high altitudes in the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

Local Youth Seriously Hurt In One of Numerous Crashes Reported During the Weekend

The pre-holiday weekend driving toll began its climb toward a high injury and damage rate about 4:30 p. m. Friday when Charles O'Connor, 16-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur J. O'Connor, 18 Conewango Avenue, suffered a fractured skull in a two-car collision on wet, slippery roads just this side of the curve at "high board fence" below State Hospital Bridge on Route 62 north of Warren.

Admitted to Warren General Hospital in "critical" condition shortly after the accident, a hospital spokesman said today that young O'Connor is responding somewhat to treatment but is not yet fully conscious. His condition remains "serious."

According to state troopers who investigated, O'Connor was heading south on the three-lane when the rear of his Times-Mirror coupe skidded on the wet pavement and slid into the east lane. A north-bound machine operated by Charles Barry, 45, of Frewsburg slammed into the left rear of the machine which spun toward him broadside. Barry was treated for a fractured nose at the hospital.

Damage to both cars was estimated at $1,200.

Three other persons were injured in a bad smashup about 12:30 a. m. Saturday, cause of this accident also attributed to slippery roads.

According to a statement given police by Melvin J. McConnell, 36, of RD 1, Warren, he was proceeding east on Pennsylvania avenue past Anderson's Market when he swung into the left lane to avoid striking a car pulling onto the avenue from Bradley street.

His car skidded and began sliding down the north lane of the avenue broadside. Harold R. Henning, 26, of 18 Schantz street, was heading west on the avenue and could not avoid the skidding car. He was taken to the hospital with a cut upper lip and a passenger, Janet Boylan, 23, of 901 Conewango avenue, was admitted to the hospital suffering cuts about her head, arms and legs plus a fractured jaw.

Her condition there today was reported "fairly good."

McConnell had a cut on his right upper arm and puncture of left temple. Henning's 1955 Ford sedan sustained $800 damages. McConnell's '55 Olds convertible $1600.

At 1 a. m. Saturday, Roland Christen, 43, of Buffalo and James Brozich, 25, of Bridgewater, Pa., sideswiped on Route 62 just this side of Tidoute, according to troopers who estimated damages to Christen's southbound car at $300, and to Brozich's car, $400. Mrs. Margaret Brozich was admitted to the hospital.

At 10 p. m. Friday, on Route 62 about halfway between the Irvine Bridge and Tidoute, John Keller, 58, of Bellaire, Ohio, ran off the road. Details are lacking.

At 3:00 p. m. Friday, two north-bound cars had a rear-end collision 10 miles south of Irvine on Route 62. Allen Foreman, 46, of Fort Bragg, N. C. was coming along the highway and apparently did not see in time that Harry Dressing, 59, of Irvine, had stopped for a left turn, according to troopers.

Trooper estimates put Dressing's damages at $300, Foreman's at $100.

A sixth accident occurred after midnight Saturday on the Scandia-Owensville Road in New York state. The vehicle narrowly avoided going into the river near Owensville, according to troopers and treated at Warren General Hospital were Robert Greer, Mrs. Rebecca Greer and Mrs. Audrey Greer, all from the Clarendon area. The two women were admitted.

Ticket demand good for Sam. Tickets for the biggest and best band and dance to transpire in Warren in years are selling well according to word today from Len Johnson, JC chairman and committee. United Cigar and B & B still have duets for the dance which will be presided over by Miss America and Miss Warren County, crowning of whom will precede the gala function. Sam Donahue, 3-horn leading a great combination of three trumpets, four trombones, five saxes plus more is a country-wide favorite with all ages. Formal dress is optional.

Last night the President and the First Lady went to the Gettysburg High School auditorium for a ceremony commemorating the men of the Blue and the Grey who died in that agonizing three-day battle.

There they heard Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, tell a capacity audience of about 1,500 that the hope for secure peace "burns as warmly in our hearts as it did in the hearts of the men who fought the battle of Gettysburg."

Kane area citizens were treated to an unadvertised air show the latter part of last week as the Air Force apparently staged a huge "problem" near the Great Lakes with a mustering area over our hilltop neighbor. The duck was parked on a landing jutting from Crescent Park. Boats were moored along bank in foreground and a CD rescue craft is anchored watchfully in mid-Allegheny. Large dial showed racers how much time was left before the starting gun.

Also on the program were Eugene Spencer, Warren, who sang a tenor solo, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Larson of Stillwater, and Max Gage, of Akeley, who gave selections on his musical saw, also accompanied by Miss Larson. Rev. Gerald Lundeen, Bear Lake EUB church, led devotions.

President Howard Fox presided at the business meeting and announced plans are being made for the next regular meeting at Cable Hollow church September 10th.

At the annual election of officers, Plumer Mourer, Youngsville, was elected president; John Mallory, Warren, vice president; Manley McCullough, Jamestown, secretary; Currie Huntington, Jamestown, treasurer.

Carl Tornstrom announced the Men's Day outing at Camp Fundley for July 13, with the father and son banquet at 6:30 and the guest speaker to be Mr. Sullivan of Philadelphia.

Eugene Spencer closed the meeting with prayer, and refreshments were served by Stillwater Brotherhood.

President Dick Cook is back from the convention in Milwaukee, and his car, looking like an ad for cigars, with a booster sign for a certain baseball team, or some animal, is attracting attention everywhere. He says people at the convention city were talking about the Warren celebration.

Two Explorer Scouts Spending 2 Weeks At Philmont Ranch

Explorers Bruce Baldwin of Post 2 and James Marshall of Troop 27, Tidoute left Saturday for a two weeks' trip to Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimmaron New Mexico. The local Explorers traveled with a group of approximately thirty from Erie and vicinity.

The Explorers traveled on an extra section of a commercial bus run, leaving Erie at 11:53 a. m. on Saturday, June 29. They expect to arrive at Philmont at 10:44 a. m. Monday, July 1.

During the two weeks at Philmont, the Explorers will live on a 127,000 acre ranch of the old west. In the hills of Philmont will be found 2,000 Explorers at a time, mule deer, and bear. On the plains is a herd of buffalo and one of the few remaining herds of long horn cattle. The Santa Fe trail crosses Philmont Scout Ranch and Kit Carson's trading post still stands. The Explorers will ride horseback and pull burros along the mountain trails. The chief method of transportation will be hiking and before returning they will cover many miles on foot.

The two young men will return to Warren on July 14.

Business Briefs

New York (AP)—An increase of "at least a cent a pound" in the price of aluminum is predicted by the "American Metal Market", metal industry daily. "In spite of its own slow market and a softer demand in some other nonferrous metal fields, the aluminum industry has little choice except to increase the price of basic primary pig by at least a cent a pound by Aug. 1," the publication will say in tomorrow's edition. Aug. 1 is the date on which aluminum workers will get an automatic wage increase under terms of contracts signed last year. The trade daily estimates that direct wage increases of 7 cents an hour, plus an estimated 10 cents an hour in fringe benefits, "will cost the industry an additional $5 to 50 million dollars a year."

Washington (AP)—An anti-monopoly subcommittee passed on the Senate Judiciary Committee without recommendation legislation to revise laws regulating price discrimination. The subcommittee neither endorsed nor disapproved the measure. It would provide that unless discrimination would lessen competition or create a monopoly it "shall be a complete defense for a seller to show that his lower price or... services... was made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor."

Philadelphia (AP)—The United States Rubber Co. is expanding plants to the tune of $40 million this year, the firm's president said here. The Philadelphia area accounts for a sizeable share of the growth, said President H. E. Humphreys after ground-breaking exercises for a new $5 million branch and warehouse in Philadelphia. He added the rubber company would have a total of $10 million investment in the Philadelphia area with completion of current projects.

New York (AP)—American Smelting & Refining Co. said "it appears it will be necessary to close down" the Ground Hog Mine at Vanadium, N. M., and the Deming, N. M., mill "due to present low prices for lead and zinc and the resulting losses now being incurred" by the operations. Both installations produce silver, lead and the zinc. Company officials declined to amplify the statement

Veterans News

Joseph D. Benson, Warren county director of Veterans' Affairs has just returned from Hershey where he attended the three-day convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Directors of Veterans Affairs.

Lieutenant Governor Roy E. Furman addressed the Directors at their annual banquet on Tuesday evening in the Hershey Community Inn. In his remarks Mr. Furman said, "In serving Pennsylvania's one and one half million war veterans, the Directors are called on to exercise wisdom and justice so that the interests of the veterans and all other citizens will be safeguarded."

The Directors were welcomed to Hershey at their opening session on Monday morning by Colonel William B. Freeland, Deputy Adjutant General of the Department of Military Affairs, Veterans Division.

Many of the Directors and their families registered on Sunday and spent the day on a specially arranged tour that took them to the Milton Hershey School, the Hershey Chocolate Factory, the Ross Garden, the Museum and other points of interest. Seminars were held during the three days on various phases of veterans affairs and were conducted by Van J. Meyl, U. S. Department of Labor; Dr. Albert B. Bailey, Bureau of Vital Statistics, Harrisburg; William O. Igenfritz, State Veterans Employment Service; Dr. Willard Stevens, superintendent Scotland School for Veterans Children; E. R. Romig and Robert W. Fracker of the Social Security Administration.

While in Hershey the Directors were entertained with a riding exhibition at the Pennsylvania State Police Training School, and an old fashioned Western Barbeque at the Hershey Country Club.

Phillips S. Pizzano, State Veterans Commission Service Officer, was chairman of the convention arrangements committee, assisted by G. Raymond Machamer, Herman W. Louser, Roy A. Alexander and Robert L. Klingamen.

Francis Asbury, who was the first circuit rider in America, is known as the "Father of American Methodism."

SECOND ANNUAL SOAP BOX DERBY

Warren's Second Annual Soap Box Derby, sponsored by Dan's Chevrolet, the Times-Mirror and Jaycees under the capable supervision of Dana Harland as chairman, assisted by an enthusiastic and hard-working committee, was staged most successfully Saturday afternoon in Central avenue before a crowd estimated at between 2,000 and 2,500.

As was evidenced last year, the Warren area boys, competing in their second classic, showed fine competitive spirit and all are being lauded for an unusual display of juvenile sportsmanship, along with enterprising originality in the construction of their racers. It was a common practice for the losers to congratulate winners before the successful racers were lifted onto a truck for transportation back to the starting ramp.

Frank Burgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Burgett, Sugar Grove RD 3, sponsored by the Preston store at Lander, is the 1957 Warren County Soap Box Derby Champion, a title richly earned with a racer that demonstrated its classic qualities from the first heat in which it appeared. It was easily the fastest car on Derby Downs Saturday afternoon, and its young pilot proved to be the possessor of a personality that has won him the admiration of all his competitors, Derby officials, Jaycee promoters and the crowd in general.

Dick Crossett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crossett, RD 2, Warren, made a worthy runner-up in the Derby, his racer proving to be a standout in construction. Others whose performances added to the excitement of the afternoon were Robert Webster, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Webster, 103 Central avenue, and LeRoy Matve, RD 1, Sugar Grove, who staged three dead heats before Webster finally was declared the winner.

The keen interest displayed by youngsters in the rural areas, along with the large number of entries from Warren borough, was a pleasing development in the Second Annual Classic. All profited by experience which is certain to be reflected another year.

Everyone agrees that Warren will have its fastest participant competing in the All American Derby in Akron next month.

To top off one of the busiest weekends in the ten years of progressive activities in behalf of the area, the Jaycees staged an exciting program of Speed Boat Races on the Allegheny river in front of the hospital Sunday afternoon before a crowd that is estimated at over 10,000 persons.

The Mid-Summer Mardi Gras is off to an excellent start, and all concerned are richly deserving of the many nice things that are being said about President Dick Cook and the Warren Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GRIM PREDICTION

There is something terribly grim about the fact that the National Safety Council can forecast with reasonable accuracy the number of people who will be killed on streets and highways on a big holiday weekend like the Fourth of July.

The people to whom death will come know the danger in advance, but the tragedy happens anyway. Perhaps it would not be quite so inescapable if drivers would pay close heed to the council's study to traffic accidents last Labor Day weekend.

If you would come through the holiday period safe and sound, then:

Don't speed and don't drink. Speed was a factor in 71 per cent of accidents, drinking in almost half.

Be especially cautious at the outset of a trip, and in the dark evening hours. Accidents are most frequent at these times. And take care in the open country, for there most of the mishaps occur.

Constantly attend to your job if you're driving. Drivers usually are the accident victims, and single driver accidents are most common.

Here and There

No person had more excitement still has a couple more years in and real enjoyment during the 1957 Jaycees Soap Box Derby than did George Newman, of Greenhurst, N. Y., the 1956 winner, who accepted an invitation from the Derby committee to act as a judge for the races, and also make the presentation of the trophy to young Frank Burgett at the Award Dinner in the evening. Clad in the uniform he wore at the All American Derby in Akron O. last summer, George was right on schedule, helping to open the afternoon's program by staging a trial run in his 1956 racer with Dana Harland, chairman of the Derby committee, as his opponent. He then joined the other officials on the judges' stand, and spent the remainder of the afternoon keeping one of the score sheets after the winner had been decided. George and his parents returned to Greenhurst to change into attire for the dinner where he did a masterful job in helping to make the presentations. In conversations with him it was learned that ne

Dan Walton executive secretary of the Warren YMCA made a big hit as speaker at the Awards banquet in the Beaty cafeteria Saturday evening. Taking as his theme "What a Block of Wood Does to the Box," Mr. Walton drew on personal experiences in his father's workshop in a furniture factory in Newark to emphasize many of the points in his talk that will long be remembered by both the young Soap Box Derby racers and adults who accompanied them. He especially stressed the importance of the spiritual side of life in saying that the power of God, available to each through faith in the spiritual power all need in these days of tension throughout the world. In closing he recommended to each boy who showed today that you can accomplish such a fine job as you did on those racers, that you con-

* WASHINGTON COLUMN *

Ghost of Andrew Mellon Hovers Over Humphrey Quiz

BY PETER EBBSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—What is happening to Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey these days is highly reminiscent of what happened to the late Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury from 1921 to 1932.

Democratic strategy in attacking the men responsible for fiscal policies in the Republican administrations is much the same in both cases. Both Humphrey and Mellon stood for a businessman's type of government, with lowered taxes greater economy and a balanced budget in periods of high prosperity.

Both were the richest men in government—though Humphrey's 12-million-dollar holdings make him a small businessman, a piker, when compared to Mellon's 300 million.

Curiously enough, the attacks in both cases, 25 years apart, were led by other millionaires.

IT WAS THE late Sen. James Couzens of Michigan who led the assault on Mellon's fiscal policies after the 1929 crash. Before that, it was Texas Jack Garner who had blocked Mellon's effort to put a 25 per cent ceiling on income taxes.

In the Humphrey case it is Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia apple millionaire, who is chairman of the current Senate Finance Committee probe of fiscal policies. One of his principal allies is Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, millionaire oil man, who boasts openly that this is a political probe.

Actually, there is no parallel between the way Humphrey has conducted fiscal policy and the way Mellon ran it.

In the 11 years that Mellon headed the treasury tax rebates of over 35 billion dollars were given to American business firms. Mellon's own companies got 1.3 billion.

In apparent retaliation for exposing a whole chain of events like these, the government filed a suit against Senator Couzens to recover 11 million dollars from his sale of Ford Company stock for over 40 millions. Couzens won this suit.

IT WAS A CHARGE by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) that finally forced Mr. Mellon out of Washington. The charge was that Mellon had used his official position to influence Colombian government policies. Shortly thereafter one of the Mellon oil companies bought the rich Barco field for 115 million dollars.

Mellon denied the charge and said he had no knowledge of the deal. But with the depression creating so much chaos in Washington, the political climate became too unhealthy for the 77-year-old Mellon. President Hoover named him ambassador to London in February, 1932, and named Ogden L. Mills as his successor for the remainder of the year. Patman's probe was then dropped.

CERTAINLY IT was the aftermath of all these disclosures which contributed to President Hoover's defeat in 1932.

It is in the hope of developing such political amnesia for 1958 and 1960 that the Democrats now probe Humphrey fiscal policies. There is no suspicion of any personal wrongdoing in Humphrey's stewardship at treasury.

But the theme of what's up may have been indicated in a letter to the newspapers by Prof. Seymour Harris, chairman of Harvard's economics department:

He accuses the secretary of having failed to achieve any of his fundamental objectives since federal expenses are now higher, interest rates are up and inflation highest in peacetime.

Harris concludes that, "Not the 72-billion-dollar budget, but the lack of comprehension of modern economics such as shown by Secretary Humphrey might bring on a hair-curling depression."

and speeches. Kearns actually will lead the band only in Tokyo on July 8-10. Prior to that he will make trips to Formosa, Hong Kong and Korea. He will be the 1st Congressional visitor at Formosa since the recent outbreaks of violence there. He will be at Hong Kong on July 4, a day of special observance there when the governor conveys to the people the greetings of the Queen of England. Kearns said he was delegated by Eisenhower to extend greetings from America also on that occasion. He also will be a dinner guest of the British governor. In Korea Kearns will visit President Syngman Rhee although his stay there will be limited to about six hours.

Attention of many motorists was attracted to an unusual sight along a road leading to Allegheny State Park last Wednesday evening when a mother bear posed on hind feet and, apparently adept at begging was treated to many a tasty morsel for herself and four cubs. During a moment of cautious instinct, however, she led her family well off the highway and in an animal fashion made them understand they were to scamper up a tree while she returned to the highway for more food.

The following press dispatch sent out under date line of Olean, N. Y., is particularly appropriate at this season of the year, and we think deserving of space in this column. The graduation program at Olean High school Tuesday night did not call for an address from Peter Augustini, one of the 218 seniors being awarded diplomas. But Peter with the blessing of Principal M. Wesley Smith told the audience of 1,300 what was on his mind—and in his heart. "My appearance on this program is both unscheduled and unusual," Peter said. "I am Peter Augustini, the last of 11 brothers and sisters to graduate from Olean High school. Of this number five have graduated from college and I hope to be a college freshman in the fall. I trust that on this occasion my pride, and that of my family, is understandable and excusable. "My parents were immigrants who came to this country in search of those privileges which Europe could not provide. They have not been disappointed. Tonight as I, their youngest son, graduate from high school, I know that their hearts are filled with gratitude. "I am happy that it was my privilege to have been born in the United States of America where every citizen is free to determine his own role in life and where the doors of opportunity are open to all. To the friendly city of Olean our thanks, and to its schools—our appreciation. The slim, dark-haired youngster returned to his chair as the audience gave him a rousing ovation.

Cynthia Prichard Pleases Audience In Piano Recital

Miss Cynthia Prichard, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Prichard, Warren RD 1, and student of Lillian J. Larsen at Warren School of Music, presented a delightful piano recital in the Woman's Club Thursday evening.

Assisting in the program was Gale Scholes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Scholes, 17 North L- vine street, and violin pupil of Wil- liam Fainbusch of Buffalo.

Miss Prichard has been a pupil of Miss Larsen for a number of years and teachers and friends have watched with much interest her steady progress in piano.

In high school, she plays oboe in the Dragon Band and occupied first chair in the oboe division for District Band Festival at Girard this year. She also plans to continue her studies in this instru- ment at Chautauqua this season.

Outstanding work was heard in her first group of old masters, Gigue from First Partita, and Ari- oso, both by Bach, with Mozart's First Sonata.

In the second group, two con- trasting numbers, Au Convent by Borodin and Valse in E Minor by Chopin, were executed with fine feeling and style. The Clog Dance by Howard Hansen and Sea-Winds by Adams were next presented with confidence and ease.

The young musician closed her program with the very brilliant Concert Waltz by Rudolf Friml, in which she showed much agility and quickness in piano-forte. All will be looking forward to her re- cital another year.

Miss Scholes added much to the evening's enjoyment with her numbers, Concerto in A Minor by Vivaldi, Berceuse from Godard's Jocelyn and Rondino (Theme by Beethoven) by Fritz Kreisler. Mrs. Jacob Levinson played a beautiful accompaniment for Miss Scholes.

CHANDLERS VALLEY 4-H CLUB ELECTS

Recently-organized members of Chandlers Valley 4-H Club will hold their next regular meeting at 10:00 a. m. July 10, at the Luth- eran church, the menu to be sand- wiches and a beverage, and all who are interested and nine years of age will be welcome.

At the organization meeting of the group, officers were elected as follows: President—Patty Bona- vita; vice president—Barb Hook; secretary—Sherry Beedle; treasur- er—Donna Longnecker; news re- porters—Carol Bosco and Bea Work; song leaders—Verna Ann Gage, Marie Tutmaher and Rosie Glotz; game leaders—Drobey Johnson, Judy Ruland, Marlene Tutmaher and Janet Sliter.

The meeting was conducted by the junior leaders, Priscilla Spen- cer and Patty Passinger. Leaders are Mrs. Alice Marie Passinger and Mrs. Emily Eckert. There were 18 members present and it was decid- ed to have tasty snacks as this year's project.

The girls were divided into four groups in which to plan the menu for the next meeting. The girls have asked the boys to take up 4-H with them so that a 4-H project which would be helpful to the community could possibly be ac- complished. The meeting closed with the 4-H pledge, followed by group singing and games.

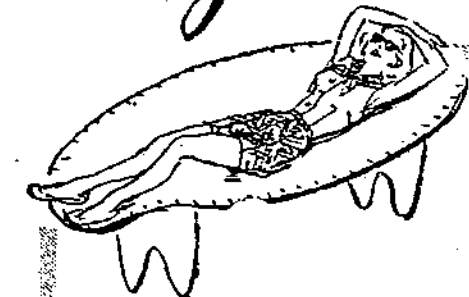

At their second meeting, the girls made brownies and oatmeal cookies and planned the July 10th menu.

COMBINED CIRCLES

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirty" bulk, that instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to contract it to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only COLONAD, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAD's great moisturing capacity, plus COLONAD's stretch- stimulating bulk. So effective it re- lieves even chronic constipation over- night, COLONAD is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAD neither gags, irritates nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other val- uable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAD exercises your colon to tone it against constipa- tion, overnight! Get COLONAD, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Teen-Age Daughters Need Deft Aid, Understanding

A MOTHER shouldn't have much trouble with a teen-age daughter if—
She makes a point of knowing her daughter's friends and insists that the boys she dates come in and get acquainted with the family. She gives her daughter to understand she trusts her and that she thinks the girl has good judgment.
She makes the daughter's friends welcome.
She respects her daughter's judgment of boys and girls her own age, knowing that young people often know more about their contemporaries than adults do.
She isn't so anxious for her daughter to be popular that she grows lax in the standards she holds up to her.
She stands with the girl's father so that they present a united front, instead of encouraging the girl not to let her father know that her mother has given her permission to do this or that.

LISTEN, MOTHER
SHE always has time to listen when her daughter is in a talkative, confiding mood. These are the times when she really gets an insight into her daughter's world with its problems, its attitudes and its standards.
She never betrays her daughter's confidence.
She is gracious and friendly to her daughter's friends—but never tries to act more like a big sister than a mother.
She praises everything that she can in her daughter and is as tactful as possible when she has to criticize.
She makes it plain to her daughter that she can come to her with any kind of problem.
A mother who can follow these rules isn't likely to find herself at loggerheads with a teen-age daughter.

Go Fish for Praise at Your Own Risk

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THE woman who fishes for compliments on her appearance makes herself less attractive in the eyes of her friends.

To call attention to herself in a reverse sort of way by saying, "Oh, I'm getting so fat," or "My hair is such a mess," I just don't know what to do with it," is to invite silence or sometimes even agreement.

Every last one of us has something we'd like to change. We think we're too tall or too short, too fat or too thin. We don't like our ankles or our eyes or our hair.

But in these days of really wonderful beauty aids, we don't need to complain. We can do something about it.

In any case, we should never call attention to a defect in the secret hope that someone will say: "You're not fat at all" or "Your hair is beautiful."

THERE are two important beauty "musts" in skin care. The first is that a woman always should use fresh powder puffs, towels and washcloths. The second is that she should always apply make-up to a clean face, never over stale make-up.

The importance of clean powder puffs cannot be overemphasized. Women who are otherwise completely fastidious seem to think nothing of whipping out a grubby puff in a restaurant and scrubbing on powder with it. They are, of course, only rubbing dirt into their pores, inviting blackheads, pimples and muddy skin.

If you find it difficult to remember to buy news puffs, keep a box of cotton balls handy and toss each one out after a single use. Putting more make-up over stale make-up can result in only one thing: more skin troubles.

Always remove all make-up, even lipstick, before you apply fresh rouge, powder and lipstick.

REMEMBER, the sun dries out your hair (and perhaps bleaches it) during the summer. Because you perspire more in the summer months, your hair collects dirt more readily.

For both reasons, give your hair more brushings and more shampoos during the summer months. Make the brushings really vigorous, sweeping the brush from scalp to the ends of the hair, then brushing it into place to polish it.

Finish off your shampoos with just a few drops of light cologne in the last rinse water for a refreshing, delightful scent. And make your summer hairdo a simple one that you can handle easily yourself.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

If you have ever had anything threaten your favorite shade tree at home you can appreciate how I felt when Paul Sundheimer, Resource Management Assistant, phoned me and told me that my favorite forest plantation—the one at the Economy Farm—was under attack by the European pine shoot moth.

I was in at the start in the establishment of this plantation seven years ago, and have watched the little red pine and European larch seedlings struggle up through the high grass and weeds to a place in the sun. Last year, at this time, they were healthy and vigorous and as tall as a man. I was proud of this young forest that had sprung up from abandoned pasture land, but I realized that it would have many enemies. Now it had been attacked by the larvae of a small moth.

A six man crew is now engaged in eradication work designed to destroy the pupae before they can emerge as moths and start another life cycle by laying eggs on other pines.

Although this insect does not kill the tree it can so badly deform it, by killing the top leader and new growth on the tips of the branches, that a stunted pine results. It is unfit for lumber production and adds little to the local scenery.

The Economy Farm Plantation is made up of several widely separated areas because the original fields were not contiguous.

The plan of attack has been to concentrate ground control work at this time on the lightly infested areas. Here each new terminal shoot, and new growth at the tips of the limbs, found harboring the pupa of the insect is snipped off by shears while the pupa is still inside. Then all are consigned to a hot fire.

An infested tree is easily spotted at this stage of the life-cycle of the insect. The larva, or grub stage, before turning into the inactive pupa stage, has eaten the inside of the twig and caused it to turn brown and die. In many cases the infested twig or terminal shoot will bend downward at the point of attachment for the new growth.

In the native range of the red pine, low winter temperatures keep the insect under control, but prolonged temperatures under ten below zero are necessary.

Other insect pests that plague the forests of the northeastern states are the spruce budworm, pine sawflies, white-pine weevil, pine engraver beetles, balsam woolly aphid, pine leaf aphid, red pine scale, forest tent caterpillar, gypsy moth, saddled prominent, fall cankerworm and variable oak leaf caterpillar.

HOME CALENDAR

Timely reminders from The Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture:

Buy-Points for Ironers — Safety features are important buy-points to consider when buying an ironer, reminds Helen Bell, Penn State extension home management specialist. Look for an emergency release to separate roll and shoe when necessary (in case of power failure). An insulated shoe edge or finger guard is important to prevent burned fingers. Other features are a signal light to show when the current is on, and an automatic shut-off of the current when the cover is closed.

Use Canning Liquid—Whenever possible, use the liquid in which food was canned to heat food, or include it in soups or sauces, says Marjorie Wormack, Penn State extension nutritionist. This liquid contains some of the minerals and vitamins which have been dissolved out of the food and is the original water in which the food was cooked. Salt or sugar may have been added.

Smooth Oilstone Surface — Smooth an oilstone surface—worn at an angle or hollowed by years of use in sharpening knives—by grinding it flat again on a perfectly level piece of concrete or concrete block. Brick won't do, points out Bonnie Dale Sansom, Penn State extension home furnishings specialist. First moisten concrete with water. Abrasive qualities of concrete cut away "high spots" on the stone. Keep the stone flat and rub in a straight line.

Serve Salad Greens—Serve salads as a flavor and texture contrast to other foods in the meal, suggests Louise Hamilton, Penn State extension nutritionist. Greens can make a salad. For variety, use one or more of these salad greens—head lettuce, escarole, romaine, water cress, endive, or spinach.

Popular Bobwhite Quail Known As An Ally To Farmer

From the Weekly Newsletter issued by The Pennsylvania Game Commission:

The bobwhite quail is most welcome on agricultural land because it is an ally of the farmer. Bobwhite has a strong appeal, too, for bird dog owners. No wonder, then, that oldtimers who hunted or farmed in Pennsylvania years ago assume a wistful look at mention of the little bombshell's name.

As a recent New Hampshire Fish and Game Department news item said (it's pretty much the Pennsylvania story): "Many an explanation has been advanced to tell why the bobwhite has largely disappeared. Predators and over-hunting have been given most of the blame. There is, perhaps, a more logical reason. The quail is associated with grain fields adjacent to thickets and briar patches. Consequently, when the early settlers spread through the country and opened up the forests the bobwhite increased. In the early days, coming from the East coast the bird followed the plow westward and northward, finding habitat conditions most ideal."

The Keystone state, also, boasted many quail years ago. But farming practices changed, and often with them the kinds of crops raised. Rail fences disappeared, natural foods and the safe travel lanes, necessities for "the farmer's friend", went with them. Where grains were once grown pasture land often took over, and on many other acres tomatoes and potatoes replaced wheat, rye and grasses. Whole sections of the state were devoted to clean farming, and bare fencerows left no hiding place for bobwhite. Consequently our quail population steadily diminished.

The extremely severe winter of 1935-36 plummeted the population of this bird to near zero. But history tells us that other rigorous winters in past sometimes reduced quail by 75-80%, following which the bird recovered.

WAVES BIGGER
The miniature paint store crime wave which began in Tidououte last week moved into Titusville over the weekend as the fraudulent pair obtained more paint there and moved on ahead of police. The men charged paint in three Tidououte stores to a non-existent Warren address and then moved on Saturday into Titusville (just ahead of a police warning) and bilked three more stores. The pair gave the names of "Clifford Jackson" and "Norman Gardner."

KILL RATTLESNAKES
Rattlesnakes hunting season got off to a nerve racking start this weekend when H. W. Miller of Wesleyville and a horseback quartet both killed one of the dangerous reptiles. Miller was returning from his camp at Cherry Grove when he ran over one at Pump Set on the hill and then shot it. Snake had four rattlers and a button, was four feet long. On Sunday Phil Hohman, Phil Mong, Sam Lannen and a Hook lad were riding up the Brown Run area when, folklore notwithstanding, none of the horses noticed a huge reptile just a few feet away. The men blasted the 12 rattlers and button to kingdom come. Later Hohman described the rattler "as long as the kitchen table and as big around as a coffee cup." Watch out!

Bared Skin in Summer Bares Secret of Little Care

THE airy comfort of summer clothing is pleasant to most of us. We all like wearing sleeveless dresses and open sandals for their cool and easy feeling. But each of us must impose certain limitations. Halter neck tops do not belong in a business office or on the street. They are meant for beach or sun wear or for late-day dresses. Bare legs are pretty only when they're smooth, free of hair and blemishes. Open sandals are not pleasant to see when they reveal feet that are uncared for, with polish chipping and cracking on ragged toenails. A sheer dress needs a slip

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

that's matched in color and one that's sufficiently protective. The skirt should not be skimpy and should cover the knees when the wearer is seated.

MANY women find the summer heat enervating, particularly when they are confined to household cares and unable to get away to the coolness of a beach.

Best way to get through muggy days without feeling exhausted is to conserve your energy as much as possible. The heat of the day is no time to tackle heavy cleaning. It's best to space necessary cleaning jobs throughout the week.

If you find you don't rest well at night, try to take a nap at some time during the day. Keep an electric fan circulating close by.

Check up on light and noise in your bedroom. The room should be as dark and as quiet as possible at night. Remember that the best place to cool off and restore your energy is in a tepid bath.

WOMEN who buy their shoes a half size too small, or who insist on wearing very high heels because they feel they're flattering, are asking for trouble. Not just foot trouble, though that's bound to come and will be serious enough.

It probably will mean the wearing of so-called health shoes. But they're also asking for facial wrinkles and lines caused by fatigue, for an irritable, snappish disposition and for poor posture. These things alone should be enough to warn any woman to have her shoes properly fitted.

She should be sure that they provide the right support and a heel height that's really comfortable for her, one in which she can walk with ease.

Pictorial Review of Second Annual Soap Box Derby

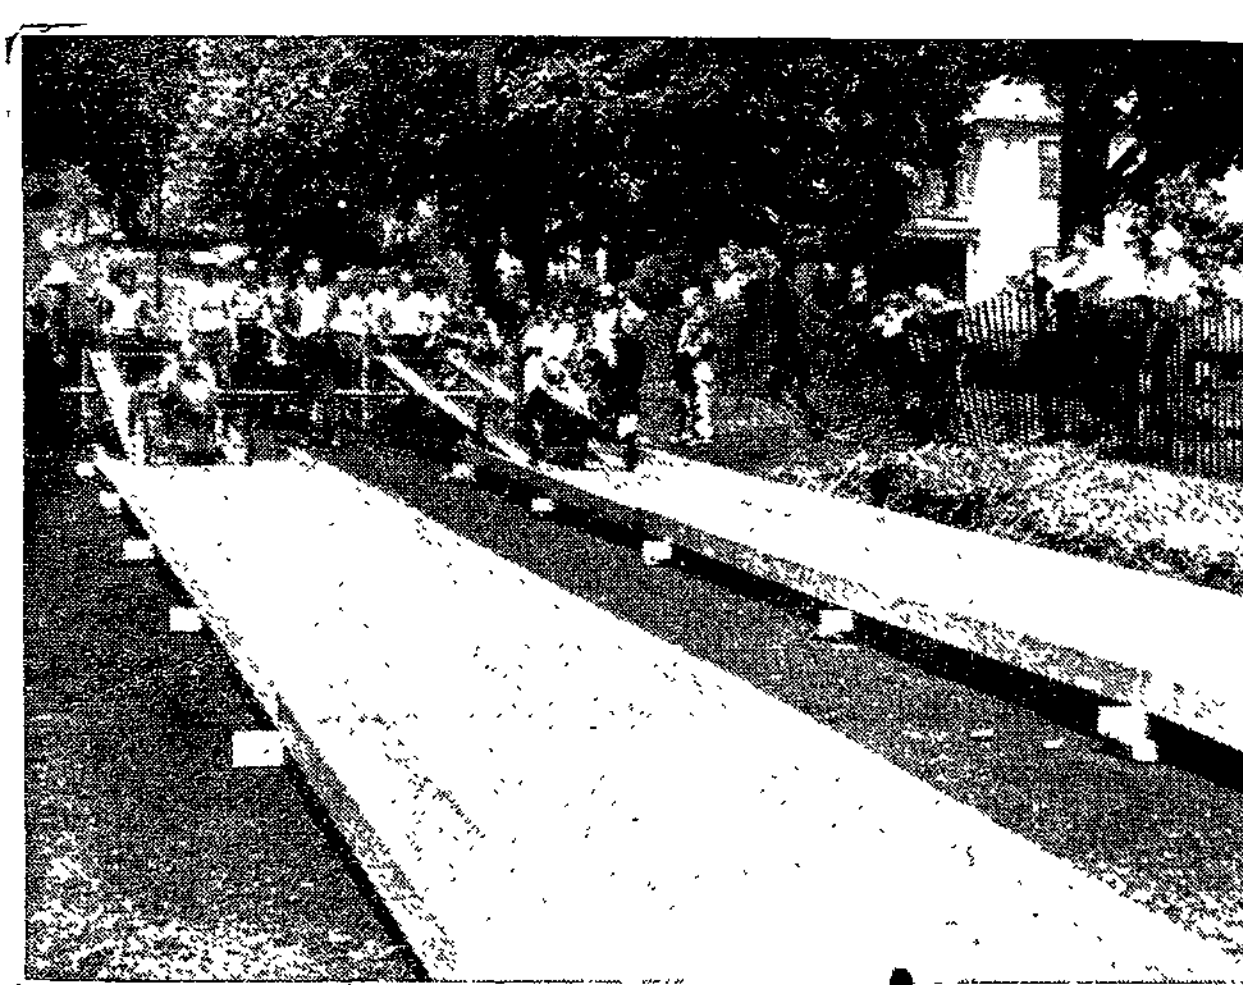

AFTER THE CLINCHING RACE, Dick Crossett of North Warren, who came in a close second, gives the new champ a warm handshake and a glad-you-won smile. Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crossett, was this year's first entrant to pass final inspection of his racer . . . THE FINAL ACCOLADE, privilege of all winners, a congratulatory kiss from Mom, while Pop, very happy over the whole thing, looks on . . . LAST YEAR'S CHAMP,

START OF AN EXCITING RACE with all eyes riveted on the contestants. The ramp, specially constructed by Hammond Iron, on Central avenue, where each of the 49 entries made his start, was described as an exact duplicate of the one used at the National Derby in Akron . . . THE NEW

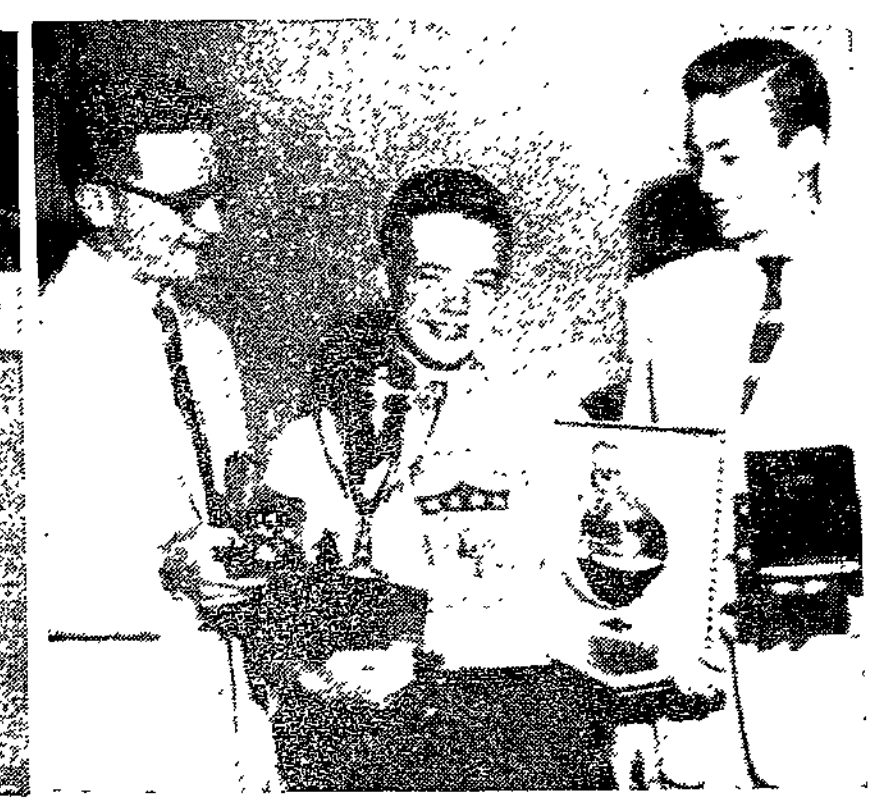

CHAMPION, Frank Burgett, of Lander, strikes a sober pose, as he contemplates the prizes he has won, and wonders what the future has in store. All we can say is, "Akron, Here We Come." Frank was sponsored by Preston's Store in Lander . . . KEEP YOUR EYE on these boys! One of

THOUGH IT RAINED ALL MORNING, the weather cleared by one o'clock, much to everyone's relief. Judges for the event were Dan Dodge of Dan's Chevrolet, Police Chief Mike Evan, Ed Lowrey, editor of Times-Mirror, and George Newman, Jr. . . . LUCKY BOY, Frank Burgett, center, with Jaycee Dana Harland, left and George Newman, Jr., right. When he races at Akron, he will wear the colors of the Times-Mirror, who will sponsor him in the finals . . . STARTING POINT of boy's dream, and a chance to win a scholarship or a trip abroad, at the National Soap Box

Derby to be held in Akron in August. Jaycees are to be commended for the efficient way the races were handled, for without their cooperation, the Derby could not have been a success. Timesphoto by Saylor.

Yanks Back in First Place In American League Race But Red Sox Posing Unexpected Threat

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press
The New York Yankees were back in first place today but a new threat has risen in the American League pennant race in the person of the Boston Red Sox. Winners of 11 of their last 13 games, the Red Sox have pushed their way into a virtual third-place tie with Cleveland, only seven games off the pace. Paced by the three-man wrecking crew of Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone, the Red Sox flattened Detroit 10-3 yesterday for a sweep of their three-game set over the Tigers, who have lost 10 of their last 13.

Williams rapped a double and single in addition to his 20th home run and drove in three runs. Jensen contributed a grand-slam homer and double, while Malzone rapped a single and triple, driving in two runs.

The Red Sox slugging bee was just one of the many highlights of an eventful Sunday.

Kansas City pitcher Ralph Terry came within five outs of a no-hitter and Yankee pitcher Don Larcen hurled his first complete game of the season as New York made it 11 in a row over the Athletics with 2-1 and 5-1 victories.

Roy Sievers' 18th home run, his second of the day, gave Washington a 10-inning, 11-9 victory after the Chicago White Sox had rallied for four runs in the ninth to win the opener 7-6. The Sox overcame a 9-3 deficit in the second game before Sievers' second homer knocked them out of a first-place tie with the Yankees.

Baltimore won its first series from Cleveland since it returned to the American League in 1954, capturing the third game in the four-game set as Billy Loos pitched a four-hit, 12-3 triumph over the Indians.

Henry Aaron became the first major leaguer to reach 100 hits and batted his 22nd and 23rd home runs as the Milwaukee Braves swept a double-header from Pittsburgh 7-4 and 6-5. Eddie Mathews' two-run homer in the 13th won the second game and kept the Braves in first place, half a game in front of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Brooks Lawrence turned in a six-hitter for his ninth victory in Cincinnati's 6-1 triumph over Philadelphia, then came back to snuff out a Philly rally in the ninth as the Redlegs also won the second game 6-2.

Ruben Gomez became the first National League pitcher to post 10 victories as the New York Giants defeated St. Louis 5-3 in the first game. The Cardinals came back to win the nightcap 7-1 behind bonus righthander Lindy McDaniel. Stan Musial hit a three-run homer for the Cards, his 18th of the season.

Brooklyn established a record in reverse when 27 Dodgers struck out as they were held to a split of their double-header with the Chicago Cubs. After Chicago had won the opener 3-2, in 11 innings, young Danny McDevitt hurled a five-hitter for his third victory, in Brooklyn's 5-1 triumph.

French Middleweight To Meet Provizzi Tonight

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press
Germinal Ballarin, latest of a long line of French middleweights to come to America, makes his U. S. debut tonight at St. Nicholas Arena against Bob Provizzi of Freeland, Pa.

The bearded Frenchman beat Kid Gavilan, former welter champ, over a year ago in Paris but lost a decision to Charles Humez, high-ranked Parisian middleweight, in his last start, March 4. His record shows he can hit with 23 knockout victories in his career totals of 42-6-4.

Provizzi has two knockouts in 37 starts and owns a 21-11-5 record. His most important accomplishment recently was lasting 10 rounds against Sugar Ray Robinson in a non-title match last November at New Haven, Conn. In 1957, Provizzi lost to Chico Vejar and defeated Tony Baldoni.

The bout will be seen in some sections on Dumont TV.

Garrison Family Keeps Grip on Publinox Golf Title

Hershey (AP) — The Garrison family of Hershey today maintained a firm grip on the Pennsylvania publinox golf title.

Paul Garrison won the 1957 championship Saturday in the 22nd annual four-day 72-hole tourney with a 520-over-par 73. His brother Art, won the crown last year. Paul previously won the title in 1954.

The 32-year-old aircraft worker had to come from behind a three-quarter mark three strokes deficit to beat Nick Rustvey, Sharon, for the title.

Paul, who also won the medal in the tourney, carded a 72-72-81-73—299 for the competition, while Rustvey collected a 72-76-75-77—300 for the 72 holes. In third place with 301 was Art Garrison.

USGA Ladies' Open At Mamaroneck Has Topsy-Turvy Finish

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Mamaroneck, N. Y. (AP)—What penalty is "too severe" for a golfer who turns in an incorrect score in a championship tournament? The United States Golf Assn. again was called upon to answer that question today after the topsy-turvy finish of the fifth USGA Women's Open championship at the Winged Foot Club.

Following the rules strictly, the tournament committee, guided by USGA President Dick Tufts, handed the title to Betsy Rawls after disqualifying Jackie Pung, who had beaten her out 298-292. Jackie, in the confusion of a tense finish, had attested a card with the wrong score on one hole.

This was the first time the victor in a major championship ever had been disqualified after actually completing a winning round. And the hulabaloo probably was greater than that raised last year when several players were given two-stroke penalties for similar offenses under a rules provision which permits committees to modify disqualification penalties "in exceptional individual cases."

As a result of last year's rumpus, the USGA, executive committee adopted a policy of strict penalty enforcement in cases of wrong scores. The player is solely responsible for the correctness of hole-by-hole scores and even the practice of having neutral scorers keep the cards was dropped.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting—Harry Simpson, Yankees, in the role of a pinch hitter, doubled to drive in Gil McDougald and Joe Collins with the tying and winning runs in the eighth inning as the Yankees came from behind to defeat Kansas City 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader. The Yankees also won the second games 5-1.

Pitching — Brooks Lawrence, Redlegs, hurled a six-hitter in the opener as Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 6-1, then came back to retire Harry Anderson on a foul with the bases full in the ninth inning of the second game also won by Cincinnati 6-2.

Mahan In Spotlight Among Independent Racers of Area

Sugar Grove—Don't look now, racing fans (for he's already gone by) but this has been a big weekend, both point-wise and money-wise, for Warren's lead-footed car salesman Emory Mahan.

Emory ate up Independent Racing Association points with the same ground-gulping acceleration of his Fuel-Injection Chevy and claimed a highly successful week end of racing with a feature win at Skyline Speedway, Sunday night, for his 9th win in 10 starts. Mahan was rated a dismal ninth in the I.R.A. standing released Friday night, but you would not have guessed it to see him drive over the weekend.

At Stateline, Saturday night he took the feature, a semi- and a heat race and then moved to Skyline Sunday night to collect their top money, beating "Madman" McGinley of Chicora, Pa. and veteran Dean Layfield in a race for the checkered flag.

A total of 22 cars battled for the moneybag at Skyline, before an estimated crowd of 2,000. Twenty-one cars entered the feature.

First heat — Fran Burchard, Guy's Mills, Pa.; Bud Gardner, Warren; Ed Young, Titusville; second — Squirt Johns, Brockway; Paul Wilson, Jamestown; Leo Lindstrom, Sugar Grove; third — John Burdick, Smethport; Emory Mahan, Warren; Fran Pezzimenti, Allegheny.

First Half of Year Sees Wide Swings in Business Sentiment

New York (AP)—At midyear they've stopped talking about the boom—if by boom you mean business climbing higher in a hurry. Today businessmen say, depending on which line they're in, "Business is pretty good and should pick up in the fall," or "Business is slow with us now and we're cutting back a little more, but the worst seems over, or should be soon."

The first half of 1957 saw wide and sudden swings in business sentiment. Worry over the future and confidence in the future stepped on each other's heels as they changed places in the business parade and in the stock market.

But the over-all statistics didn't justify either extreme. The gains were moderate, compared with recent years. The losses were, too, in most lines.

Still rising prices pinch the consumer. Still rising costs of labor and materials pinch the profit margin of the businessman.

More or less painfully adjusting to new patterns of consumer buying have been the makers of autos, farm implements, household appliances, the builders of homes. Also adjusting have been the industries that supply manufacturers.

Producers of copper, lead and zinc have been slashing prices in a vain attempt. So far, to find more buyers. On the other hand, steel and aluminum makers are getting set to hike their prices, citing upcoming wage boosts.

Taking the high road in the economy are those who supply the various governments, whose spending has been increasing. As home
